GREAT EXPOSITION

At Cincinnati, Booming the 9-Foot Stage and Exploiting Products of Ohio Valley

An exposition devoted to the interests of the Ohio Valley, and especially as an exploitation of the canalization of the Ohio river to a nine-foot stage, as decided upon by Congress, is being planned. The matter has already been the subject of several informal conferences and the suggestion has thus far met with enthusiastic approval.

The nucleus of the proposed exposition, or fair, will be the Fall Festival, and it will be held in Cincinnati. It will be known as the Ohio Valley Exposition, and it is intended that it shall be a complete exhibit of the products of the commercial and industrial life of the valley.

Those who are pushing the project are proud of the fact that the Ohio Valley is now the "workshop of the world," and they look forward to the day when, with the completion of the improvement of the Ohio river, thus affording the cheapest known method of transportation, the industries of this valley will become one of the wonders of the world.

SCHOOL REFORM

Woman's State Federation Wants Better Conditions in Kentucky

Methods to bring about educational reform in Kentucky are, being strongly advocated by the Woman's State Federation of Kentucky and in order to accomplish their work they ask the co-operation of all sections of the State.

At present bills are before the Kentucky Legislature for the purpose of remedying conditions, and their passage is strongly urged. It is pointed out that in Kentucky there are 1,238 old log schoolhouses, 2,000 houses without seats and blackboards, and 4,000 without globes, maps or charts. In the 119 counties of Kentucky there are 25,000 Trustees, of whom 5,000, it is asserted, can neither read nor write. Yet out of the State tax, which in 1902 was nearly $18,000,000, over $4,000,000 was expended on schools.

To expend this money to greater advantage, the educational bills now before the General Assembly are for the purpose of putting county schools under the supervision of County Boards, composed of men thoroughly posted in modern educational methods.

It is hoped by the Woman's Federation to bring about this reform before another National census shall bring them in comparison with sister states.

FRIDAY, the 28th, was not "Black Friday" for old Kentucky by any means.

AND now where are the Beckhams and the Hagers and the Hargises and the Haleys?

It should not be overlooked that Governor BECKHAM received his skiddoo commission from the people of Kentucky on Friday.

Now it is claimed that the Justices of the Kentucky Court of Appeals are overworked. It appears to us that if these learned Judges would boil down their decisions and make them brief and in words that the ordinary individual could understand, they would not feel overworked themselves and would not cause those not familiar with Blackstone and Chitty to experience that tired feeling when they undertake to wade through the modern interpretation of a law point.

The new nine-hour law went into effect on the C. and O. yesterday and now every office must have a shift of three operators during the 24 hours.

THAT Kentucky Fire Marshal ought to be fired.

SOMETIMES the last straw and the last ballot mean about the same old thing.

It is said that the word "girl" appears but twice in the Bible. Maybe that is the reason some men are not so overly anxious to follow the straight and narrow path that leads to Bibleland—Heaven.

EX-GOVERNOR BECKHAM is no doubt now having a few thinks a coming in his subtle mind anent that homely but striking maxim of the greatest of all Kentuckians—ABRAHAM LINCOLN, viz:

"You can fool some of the people all the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you cannot fool all the people all the time."

WHILE the motto, "In God We Trust," is to go back upon the coins of the country it must be remembered that the same reverent maxim will also appear upon the counterfeit coins. Brother CAVE, you might possibly discover a text for a little Sunday sermon in the above item; although the Rev. BURRIS A. JENKINS declares that the divine motto has no real Christian significance when imprinted upon American money.

He was not a very rapid wooer, and she was getting a bit anxious.

Again he called, and they sat together in the parlor, "just those two."

A loud rap came at the front door.

"Oh, bother!" she said. "Who can be calling?"

"Say, you're out," said the deceiver.

"Oh, no; that would be untrue," murmured the ingenious one.

"Then say you're engaged," he urged.

"Oh, may I, Charlie?" she cried, as she threw herself in his arms.

And the man kept on knocking at the front door.

THE SINGING BULB

By A. H. MARTIN

"I noticed it first about a week ago, just after I had returned from a visit to the club. I had started to read for a half-hour before retiring. The volume contained several fantastic stories, including the 'Masque of the Red Death.' Suddenly I became aware of a sound as if some one was singing, and the singer seemed to be in the room. It was a sad melody, as I remember, and the voice was wonderfully sweet and gentle. It was a woman's voice, and it was reproaching me because I had so soon forgotten her.

"And you know, Frank, that it was only a year ago that Hilda died. It was suddenly borne upon me that I was listening to Hilda's voice singing to me from another world. Up to that time I felt no alarm, but now I felt my hair commence to rise. All at once my gaze became riveted on the single electric bulb that illuminated the apartment. Frank, as sure as I am a living man, the voice proceeded from that lamp. And since then it has happened regularly every night, until I believe that I will go insane unless the mystery is solved."

"Undoubtedly the mystery has a human origin," I replied, as I regarded my cigar reflectively, "although I must say that it is certainly an original way to impersonate the departed. Is there anyone who would be benefited by your death or incarceration, even temporarily, in an insane ward?"

"The only one who could be in any way benefited is Edward Duval, Hilda's only brother."

During the day I did a little quiet detective work, and discovered things relating to Edward Duval that did not speak very favorably for him. At the present time he was infatuated with Fanny Davidson, a burlesque actress.

I made my way to John's house, and we were soon seated in the library discussing the strange affair in lowered tones. The semidarkness cast by the solitary lamp, and the peculiar mission that had brought me there had a depressing effect upon us. Suddenly a woman's voice—one of the sweetest and saddest I have ever heard—issued from the glowing bulb and pervaded the entire apartment. The song was a sentimental one and reproached another for the cooling of his love.

Forcing down a sensation of horror, I removed the globe from the socket. The song instantly ceased. In a moment I had screwed in another globe that I had brought with me. Instantly the song was renewed with all its original power and sweetness. John had sunk back in his chair. Even my nerves were shaken.

Suddenly the voice ceased, only to begin again. And it called John by name to the unknown, and it promised the delights of paradise if he heeded the call.

With a wild cry John sprang to his feet and dashed to the door. His wild shriek aroused me, and suddenly a light broke over me. With one spring I had reached John, and after a desperate struggle forced him into a chair.

"The mystery is one no longer," I cried, as I held him down.

"What are you going to do about it?" and Edward Duval snarled up at me, as I confronted him in his apartment.

"I will give you five hours to leave Chicago, never to return," I replied as quietly as I could. "Both you and your accomplice."

"Before I leave do you mind telling me how you came to detect the contrivance?" asked Duval, after a moment's moody silence.

"Had you been content with the excellent song, I might still have been at sea," said I, "but the instant you commenced your other tactics, the truth flashed upon me. I hurried to Fanny Davidson's apartments. A telephone wire ran from the building to John's house. Directly I became aware that the same voice I had heard in the library was proceeding from her rooms."

"Cautiously glancing inside, I observed that a fine phonograph was connected with the transmitter of the open telephone. Then I observed that the telephone wire was connected with the electric line in such a way that when the bulb in the library was open the voice from the phonograph was forced to issue from the lighted globe. If the globe was removed the voice would, of course, cease as soon as the circuit was broken."

With a snarl Duval commenced packing his trunk.

Reports Show That 5,500 Kentuckians Carry Heavy Life Insurance

A list of heavily insured men and women in the United States, compiled by the Spectator Company of New York, shows Louisville and Kentucky to have a larger average of men and women whose lives are valuable to the insurance companies of the country than almost any other city and state. The list, as compiled, gives the names of 5,500 people who are carried by the insurance companies at risks exceeding $50,000. The statistics bring to light that but one woman in Kentucky carries policies aggregating $50,000 or more. Mrs. Matthew L. Akers of Louisville has her life insured for $100,000.

I. W. Bernheim of Louisville is the most heavily insured man in the state, his policies amounting to $300,000.

HOW A COLD IN THE HEAD AND NASAL CATARRH CAN BE CURED

Paracamp is Daily Demonstrating Its Marvelous Curative Properties.

At this time of the year, Cold In The Head and Nasal Catarrh are most prevalent. Many users of Paracamp are not aware that it will relieve and cure these ailments.

Don't dose your stomach with powerful drugs which always leave a bad after-effect and in a great many instances do serious harm, but try Paracamp. You will be agreeably surprised at the results.

Take a small quantity on the end of the finger, put it well into the nostril and sniff hard, so as to get the remedy up into the channels of the nose and until it runs back into the throat. Do this until the channels of the nose are opened; then rub the outside of the nose and forehead thoroughly applying Paracamp freely, as this will stimulate the circulation, remove congestion, open the pores and draw out the fever and inflammation by inducing sweating.

When Paracamp is used in this manner, it goes immediately to the diseased and inflamed membranes, cooling, soothing and healing the same. It also kills the disease germs.

The principle of Paracamp is direct contact. It opens the pores of the skin, one of the mediums through which the body throws off its impurities, permitting the soothing, healing oils to penetrate direct to the interior cells, and removing all soreness, fever and inflammation by inducing perspiration.

This treatment should be repeated several times and always upon arising in the morning and at night before retiring. After a thorough trial, if you are not perfectly satisfied with the results, go to your druggist and he will give you your money back.

Paracamp has relieved many sufferers, and will cure without harming. It does not act as many other remedies do, so they may perform their natural functions.

Paracamp is sold and recommended by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.

Experience of Syracuse Man.

Mr. William L. Brown of Syracuse, N. Y., says: "Four years ago I contracted a severe lung trouble."

"Doctors in Texton Hospital, Utica, gave me up—said no hope. I continued to fail until I only weighed 68 pounds. They sent me home from the hospital saying they could do nothing for me."

"Later I saw Vinol advertised, and immediately began taking it. I improved after the first bottle, so continued its use for three months. Today I weigh 157 pounds and am well and healthy. I really believe Vinol saved my life."

The reason Vinol accomplishes such surprising results is because Vinol is a combination of the curative elements of two world famed tonics, cod liver oil and peptonate of iron, but shorn of all useless oil or grease.

Vinol is made by a scientific, extractive and concentrating process from fresh cod livers, combining with peptonate-of-iron all the medicinal healing, body-building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil to upset the stomach and retard its work.

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, after sickness, and for chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles, Vinol is unexcelled.

TEMPORARY

Suspension of Wage Reduction Order By the L. and N.

Temporary advantage for the locomotive Engineers and the Conductors employed by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company was obtained Saturday when, through the intervention of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Company agreed to rescind the recent order for a reduction of 10 per cent. in the pay of these classes of employes, which would have become effective yesterday.

This will be agreeable news to Captain Dunn and the rest of the Maysville boys who had a decided aversion to having ten per cent. of their salary lopped off.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. TOBACCO WAR

Campaign of Retaliation to Be Waged Between Grower and the Anti-Grower.

Latest Developments in Montgomery County Have a Dark Outlook.

MT. STERLING, Ky., Feb. 29.—Much excitement was caused here today when it became known that many of the members of the Society of Equity in this county had received threatening letters through the mails regarding the raising of tobacco. The letters bear the postmark of the local office, and were mailed in this city.

One of the letters was sent to J. M. Bigstaff, President of the Traders' Bank, the wealthiest man in the county, and a large land-owner. He was formerly on the Board of Control of the Society of Equity in this county. The letter was written on a typewriter, with blue ribbon on ruled paper, and was mailed in a white envelope. In the envelope with the letter was a brown envelope of smaller size, which contained powder and some matches. It reads as follows: "Dear Sir: This is to notify you if there is any beds of tobacco destroyed in Montgomery or Bath counties this, 1908, you had better look out for your own property."

[Signed] "TENANTS."
Similar letters were received by other members of the Society, while Harve Prewitt, Lucien Bridgeforth and other tobacco and cattle raisers received letters signed the same way, written on the same kind of paper, and evidently on the same kind of a typewriter, saying: "If we cannot raise tobacco you cannot raise any cattle."

The Equity people, or some of them, turned the letters over to the postal authorities, and it is said the matter will be probed to the bottom. This is the first instance where Equity members have been threatened.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO.

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily; when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Frederick Dresel, 1238 East Second street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a most excellent kidney remedy, and I am only too glad of an opportunity to speak in their behalf. About five years ago I was bothered by kidney trouble. The kidney secretions were attended with much pain during passage and were very irregular in action. Severe pains across the small of my back were of frequent occurrence and at times greatly interfered with my work. A friend advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills, as he had taken them for a similar trouble with the best of results, and I procured a box at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore. I used them strictly according to directions and they afforded me prompt and effective relief."

ECHOES FROM FRANKFORT

Governor Bradley Looms Up as
Most Eminent Kentuckian—
Mason County Election
Now Without Interest

FRANKFORT, Ky., February 29th.—The county unit bill will be defeated in the Senate and a Republican legislative redistricting bill passed is the opinion of the Democrats as the result of the election of Bradley to the United States Senate.

Business was practically suspended here today to discuss the result of the Senatorial contest. No other topic was mentioned as the people of Frankfort seem dazed.

Governor Bradley closed his headquarters and went to Louisville today, but will return next week to get his commission.

Governor Beckham was at his headquarters at the usual hour this morning. His loyal friends joined him and they talked over the result together. Some of them were of the opinion that the Democratic members of the General Assembly thought they had been lead into a trap by not breaking the quorum yesterday and attempting to prevent the joint ballot. Governor Beckham and his managers think, however, that the die was cast and that yesterday was the day for Governor Bradley to be elected, regardless of any action that might have been taken by the Beckham Democrats.

Governor Beckham takes his defeat cheerfully and says since the first week of the balloting his only hope has been to keep up the deadlock till the end of the session.

It is said that Beckham charges Paynter with disloyalty and ingratitude; that Paynter came to Frankfort and remained a few days, then deserted Beckham and returned to Washington, where he has been ever since. The accuracy of the charge is not known, but it is freely talked here. Other rumors are that Beckham will seek the Democratic nomination for Governor or the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Fourth Congressional District.

Governor Bradley said: "Boys, it was a long time coming. My hair is getting white, and I am in my sixty-second year, but now that I am to go to the Senate, I should be very happy and grateful and I am."

The new Senator was asked relative to the political situation in the state and replied: "I have nothing whatever to say, except that I owe everything to my friends, the Republicans and the independent Democrats who stood by me."

TO HELP TOBACCO GROWERS

"I want to say another thing. I deplore and denounce the lawlessness in this state as heartily as any man in it, but when I go to the United States Senate I shall give my voice and my vote to take the tax off of tobacco and allow the man who produces the tobacco to manufacture it, and in that way at least try to do something for the peace of the Commonwealth of Kentucky."

Speaker Gooch will certify to Bradley's election today and Governor Willson will personally hand him his commission as Senator next Wednesday.

Both Democratic and Republican leaders say tonight that the end of the Senatorial race at Frankfort will have a big effect on the campaign now on in Mason and it is predicted that not more than 2,000 votes or a one-third of the total vote will be cast a week from today.
